

Chapter 7: PRIORITIES FOR FUTURE PROJECT INTERVENTIONS

The main focus of future project activities should be placed on:

- The successfully implemented activities of WSMP should be expanded to at least two new areas in Ajlun or Jerash Gouvernorates in early 2001.
- The project needs to pursue and even intensify its efforts on the measures started in institution and capacity building for all co-operating charitable societies and cooperatives.
- Poverty alleviation through the promotion of income generating activities (agricultural and non-agricultural), including handicraft production, should stay at the center of the project's approach.
- The successfully started M&E system for IGAs needs to be continued and expanded. With time, these M&E activities focussing on specific IGAs will need to be complemented by more comprehensive impact monitoring exercises and case studies.
- The water harvesting and storage programme should also be further expanded. More demonstrations are needed on the appropriate use of water harvesting systems in the collection and storage of surface water run-off. Furthermore, the use of cisterns for supplementary irrigation of vegetables and fodder crops should be actively demonstrated and promoted.
